

HEARST FOR GOVERNOR
FAILED TO PLEASE.

Democratic Editors Did Not Take Kindly to Suggestion of Mr. Platt, of Batavia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Efforts to start a movement for William R. Hearst for Governor were made in the meeting of the Democratic editors of New York State, held in the Hoffman House on Wednesday before the editorial banquet. Chester C. Platt, of Batavia, who has been active in the Hearst League, attempted to offer a resolution praising Mr. Hearst and demanding his nomination.

Although Mr. Platt argued with the committee on resolutions he could not induce that body to report his resolution to the meeting and it did not appear.

Mr. Hearst has received no assurance from Tammany Hall that he is to be renominated for Congress in the Eleventh district. A movement has been begun in the district to organize the independent Democrats there in his behalf. A meeting was held last night of this element in the Fifth Assembly district and resolutions were adopted looking to action in the district fight.

Mr. Hearst was a candidate for President before the St. Louis convention. It has been understood that he did not desire to return to Congress.

It is announced that Ira E. Ryder, who represents the Fourteenth district, is to be retired this year in favor of Charles A. Towne. Mr. Ryder was asked to resign to make a place for Mr. Towne, but declined to do so, although a $4,500 place was offered to him, and Charles F. Murphy was angry.

"Sour Grapes."

A well known young man in the city is in a piteous predicament. Yesterday he saw some grapes in a neighbor's garden, which were "growing red in the amorous kisses of the autumn sun," and he at once decided to have some. He knew the family well enough to help himself without asking. At least, he thought he did. So he climbed to the top of the coal house and ate enough to depopulate Fairmont by the appendicitis route. About that time he heard the fine voice of a woman which seemed to say: "Get out!" Nothing seemed easier than to slide down the roof. Poor fellow, he never saw that dreadful splinter but he found out that it was there. He is now partly a wooden man. How he blushed this morning when he was asked to sit down and be comfortable!

Child Taken to Pasteur Institute.

Mr. J. S. Walker, of East Park avenue, left last night for Baltimore to place his child under the Pasteur treatment, his little daughter, having been bitten by a dog about two weeks ago. The dog was killed, but not before it had bitten several other dogs and two of these dogs have since gone mad, so it was thought best to put her under the treatment, although the bite was only a scratch.

Friends make a great mistake in killing such dogs immediately after they have bitten some one. Such a dog should be well chained and watched for a few days to make certain that they have rabies. Thus delay in determining the question can be saved.

Newspaper Changes.

We note some newspaper changes of interest. A. G. Hughes has resigned as editor of the Preston Leader. J. Ed Frye, of the Grant County Press, has taken charge of the Mountain Echo, of Keyser, while A. A. Dorsey will devote his undivided attention to the Parsons Advocate hereafter. Granville E. Taft has revived the Phillips Plaindealer. These are all good clever fellows and we wish them the very best of success in their new fields of labor.

KICKERS COLUMN

Are the street car rules so iron-clad that the conductors are allowed no discriminating power whatever? We know that people ill of contagious diseases are not allowed the use of the cars, but in a critical case of typhoid fever, where haste is essential to recovery, the use of a rear seat in an open car could surely not be termed a menace to the public. A special case is in mind, where a little boy desperately ill was to be brought to a hospital from an outside town. Everything was in readiness to receive him and he was conveyed to the car, but was refused admittance and forced to wait until the next day and be brought by train to the city. Then another rule that seemingly suffers no infringement, is that of allowing no dogs on board the cars. One too rigid enforcement of this rule was noted when a little girl with a pup in her arms, too tiny to even bark, was put off the car and forced to walk twelve squares through a broiling sun and carry the pup, in order to reach home. And yet bird dogs have been carried even longer distances and regular fares charged them. Is this the effect of too great discrimination or not enough? "ONE OF THE INCONVENIENCED."

Our streets on days of big celebrations, in point of congestion resemble the Atlantic City boardwalk or lower Broadway, New York. Now why are people allowed to stand in the middle of the sidewalk and impede progress to such an extent that pedestrians are forced to walk in the street in order to get any place at all? At certain corners, the congestion is something to be marveled at, and why do our policemen allow it? They stand around and look at the crowd, but make no effort to keep a passage open for people more engrossed in business than pleasure, and who suffer great inconvenience by having either to force a way by main strength or dodge carriages and cars in the middle of the street. Isn't this one of the duties of the police? "EXASPERATION."

I am interested in knowing why our street cars are labeled only on state occasions. Why is a sign not upon every car, showing its destination? Every day we hear strangers in town inquiring of passers-by what car to take in order to reach Logan avenue, Watson or Monongah. They can't know these things by intuition, and a placard on the front of each car would remove the necessity for embarrassment caused by thus questioning strangers. "INQUIRER."

Excursion to Parkersburg.

We are in receipt of the following letter from the committee in charge of the big Republican meeting at Parkersburg next Saturday: Parkersburg, W. Va., Sept. 9, 1904. The West Virginian, Fairmont, W. Va.: Gentlemen—The Republican State Committee has completed arrangements with the railroad company to run excursions from your town to the Fairbanks meeting, to be held at Parkersburg on September 17.

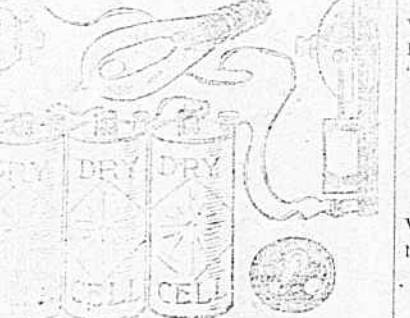

Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, Republican nominee for Vice-President, will make an address; also Governor A. B. White, Hon. W. M. O. Dawson, Republican nominee for Governor of this State; Congressman B. B. Davenport, A. G. Dayton, H. C. Woodard, J. H. Gaines and James A. Hughes, Hon. C. F. Teicher, ex-Governor G. W. Atkinson and Hon. B. G. Daves, of Ohio.

This meeting will be the largest gathering held in the State during the campaign. The rate from Fairmont to Parkersburg and return is $1.50. Anything you can do to get out a large crowd from your town will be greatly appreciated.

Yours truly,

AT THE LOCAL PLAY HOUSE.

GEORGIA BRYTON, As Fifi, in "A Chinese Honeymoon."

"A CHINESE HONEYMOON."

In its mounting, "A Chinese Honeymoon," it is said, equals the most gorgeous predecessors, if it does not surpass them all. The two scenes of a garden of a Chinese hotel and a hall in the Emperor's palace, are elaborate and picturesque in the extreme, while a more lavish display of rich costumes has seldom been seen. The color scheme is of delicate purples, pinks and are most attractive, and the posing and blendings are in every way artistic. In the excellence of the cast this new offering also has its advantage, for with John L. Kearney, Robinson Newbold, Albert Froom, Geo. Broderick, Jos. B. Miller, Misses Georgia Bryton, Regina McAvoy, Mabella Baker, Winnie Baker, Helen Laten, Winnie Carter, Eveleen Dunmore and a chorus of seventy-five it is one of the largest and most expensive organizations that has been seen in this city in recent years.

PAID THE PENALTY.

George Williams Was Hanged at the State Prison.

Friday evening at 5:18 o'clock George Williams, the negro, found guilty of criminal assault on the beautiful Jefferson county school teacher, Laura Knobe, June 27, near Harper's Ferry, paid the penalty of death, being hanged at the State prison. Williams maintained his nerve to the end and protested his innocence. The execution came off without a hitch, and in eleven minutes life was pronounced extinct.

Like all executions at the penitentiary the one last evening was carried out without a hitch, and there was not the least incident to mar the solemnity of the occasion.

W. G. Bosserman is now sole owner of the Grand Opera House bar and has been since Monday morning. The regular force of mixers, Port Knight and Will Doheny, are continued, no change being deemed necessary in that department. BUSINESS

Opening in the First Ward's Finest Building.

The Monongahela Bank of Fairmont, located at the corner of Merchant and Market streets, is at last completed, furnished and in operation. The structure is four stories high, including basement rooms. The exposed side and front, as seen from the principal streets, are composed of pressed brick artistically combined in its design, and put up by Newton Eakins at cost of about $25,000. The bank occupies the front room on the first floor proper for business, and the middle room for the use of the directors, while 'Squire Swindler has rented the rear room for his future office, and has already established himself in it. The cashier, Hugh F. Smith, occupies the second floor as his residence, and the third floor is also occupied as residence flats, and all richly and handsomely furnished in the best of taste and modern design. The directors held their public opening for the reception of their patrons and for business a few days since, which was well attended. Their many friends, interested in the enterprise from its inception, were there to extend congratulations who were right royally entertained by the officials, the directors room having been converted into an ice cream parlor for the time being, where cream, cake, and various fruits of the season, with other delicacies were dispensed during three successive days and one evening. Their patrons also received various neat and useful mementos in token of good will during the time of visitation. They start off in their new quarters under the most auspicious circumstances, buoyant with hope, and full of good cheer over their business prospects, which promise even better things for the future than during the past year of their business history. The directors, R. E. Harr, W. E. Watson, B. L. Butcher, D. F. Gaskins, C. D. Robinson, P. B. Swearingen and C. L. Barnes, together with the cashier, Hugh F. Smith, and Clerk Carl D. Springer, are all very pleasant, conservative and yet accommodating gentlemen, who will give all due attention to the interests of their patrons, of whom we bespeak a larger number for them in their future business career.

Especially would we commend them to the citizens of the First ward, for whom they have already done so much in the establishment of this business institution in our midst, and now the handsome and attractive home built for it, in the benefits of which all will receive a share. Starting off so well, and under such pleasant auspices as they have, we join in congratulations, only wishing that all their highest hopes may be realized, and all their earnest efforts be crowned with increasing success.

FROSTBURG

WILL BE HERE IN ALL ITS GLORY TO-MORROW TO SEE THE BALL GAME.

Frostburg, team, town, band and all will be here to-morrow. This is the game of the year, so far as that team is concerned, on account of the people who will travel all the way from Frostburg to witness it.

Groninger, of Morgantown, will play short, McDonald going to second and Douglass to right. Frostburg will line up with O. Gunneth, 2b.; F. Spates, ss.; Staken, 3b.; O. Jackson, c.; J. Jackson, 1. f.; Taylor, m.; G. Gunneth, 1b.; Frock, 1.

Harry Blumling will pitch the game for Fairmont.

Manager Slack received a letter yesterday from Teddy Price, manager of the Wheelings, in regard to open dates and teams. Slack answered the letter to-day, but will hardly receive a reply until Monday. It seems that Price wants to play a week day game here and the Sunday game in Wheeling. Even at that 1,500 people would turn out on any old day to see the leaguers perform.
